Melamine faced chipboards | Pearl / Metallic decors

Melamine faced chipboards with pearl/metallic decors are panels whose decorative surfaces have been produced with pearl/metallic pigmented printing inks.

In particular, decors printed over the entire surface with pearl/metallic inks are to be classified as more critical with regard to their resistance to abrasion, scratches and colour changes and in some cases do not meet the requirements of DIN EN 14322 in these points.

Pearl/metallic decors show a typical iridescence that is strongly dependent on the viewing angle. This effect is based on the orientation of the pearl/metallic particles introduced during printing.

This effect is due to physical reasons and is not a reason for complaint.

Pearl/metallic decors are not suitable for horizontal use.
